He entered the Classical Department of Princeton University, Sept. 1903, from which he graduated in 1907. His purpose was to enter Princeton Seminar to prepare for the Gospel ministry and go to the Punjaub, India as a foreign missionary. Resolutions. Whereas. It has pleased our allwise and all-loving Father in his infinite goodness and mercy to take from us our friend and companion, William Eaton McLean, who had endeared himself to his fellows by his uprightness of character and purity of spirit, and for whose services in the office of President, the Philadelphian Society will always remain profoundly grateful: Therefore. Be it resolved. That we do express our heartfelt grief in his loss and do offer our sincere sympathy to his bereaved family and friends. God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ has called to eternal rest and peace his faithful servant and our...
