Never mind if it is. I have not many days left. I was thinking that Mani should go to her father s house.-I forget where he is now. Sitarampur. Oh yes! Sitarampur. Send her there. She should not remain any longer near a sick man. She herself is not strong. Just listen to him! How can she bear to leave you in this state? Does she know what the doctors--? But she can see for herself! The other day she cried her eyes out at the merest hint of having to go to her father s house. We must explain that in this statement there was a slight distortion of truth, to say the least of it. The actual talk with Mani was as follows: - I suppose, my child, you have got some news from your father? I thought I saw your cousin Anath here. Yes! Next Friday will be my little sister s annaprashan ceremony. So I m thinking-- All right, my dear. Send her a gold necklace. It will please your mother. I m thinking of going myself. I ve never seen my little sister, and I want to ever so much. Whatever do you mean? You surely don t think of leaving Jotin alone? Haven t you heard what the doctor says about him? But he said that just now there s no special cause for-- Even if he did, you can see his state. This is the first girl after three brothers, and she s a great favourite.-I have heard that it s going to be a grand affair. If I don t go,...
